MARK H. PAGE WILL SINK MANHATTAN CONSOLIDATED TO WHITE CAPS SHOOT

Mark H. Page, a member of the prize winning Page Brothers drilling team, has accepted the superintendency of the Manhattan Consolidated Mining company. Mr. Page came from Columbia, Tuolumne Co., California, where he had successful experience as a practical mining man.

For the past six years he has been in this camp and has been engaged in sinking every big shaft in Tonopah.

The Manhattan Consolidated has a working hoist and compressor in perfect running order. The plant has been idle for a year and a half, but has not lost efficiency through the idle period.

The shaft is 200 feet deep and has a vein 40 feet wide that averages $14 to the ton. Mr. Page, who was night boss at the Midway Consolidated, has, with the consent of the directors of that company, accepted the new position.

He will put three shifts to work immediately and expects to catch the White Caps ore short at 350 feet. Jackhammer drills, the fastest known, will be used in sinking. The transformers went over today on a Wittenberg truck.

Mr. Page said: "I will introduce into the Manhattan district the latest and most efficient keyboard system of shaft timbering."

very effort to operate their roads in spite of the strike.

Preference will be given to the movement of trains carrying fuel and food.

When the managers in their counter proposition at the final momentous conference offered to abide by any decree of the Goethals commission if the Adamson act were declared unconstitutional W. G. Lee, president of the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen, spokesman for the employees, said: "That would be only another form of arbitration and our men are sick and tired of arbitration."

The brotherhood chiefs contend their demand for the basic eight-hour day for all classes of work, with pro rata time for overtime, would give them only what they would gain under the provisions of the Adamson law. They have abandoned their original demand for time and a half for overtime.

Declaring that the rank and file of the brotherhood membership had become impatient and would tolerate no further delay in enforcing their demands, Mr. Lee said the supreme court might adjourn without handing down a decision on the Adamson act. In that event he declared there would be no decision until next winter and the men would not wait.

The managers' refusal to comply with the ultimatum of the brotherhoods was based on the contention that they must "await and abide by" the decision of the supreme court on the Adamson act. They asserted their willingness to submit the entire controversy to the eight-hour commission if the law is declared unconstitutional and agreed to accept any decree of the commission.

Pointing out to the four chiefs the grave international crisis which confronts the nation, they appealed to their patriotism to prevent a strike. The brotherhood chiefs, in a formal statement, expressed indignation at the attitude taken by the railroads in declaring a strike would be unpatriotic.

"If, after more than a year, we have failed to secure some relief and train and engineers conclude to fold their hands and starve in reality, rather than by degrees, should they be considered as disloyal to their flag?" the statement asks.

fully supplied with rifles and ammunition.

At the same time all the prisoners for political offenders were thrown open by the revolutionists and the prisoners marched out to join their emancipators.

The battle spread from one part of the city to another with great rapidity and as the day progressed it became apparent that nothing could stem the tide of revolution, which swept westward from the neighborhood of the duma and the chief military barracks up the Neksky Mawkaya to St. Isaac's Square.

Hollweg won't make his speech because Lloyd-George is due to speak on the same day. Yet folks say that T. R. is the only man who understands how to use newspaper space—Chicago Post.

RUBY IN NORTH STAR

The raise from the 1050 level of the North Star yesterday afternoon broke into a veritable ruby alley. Across three and a half feet the ore is ribboned with specimen rock. Nine mine cars went into the bin this morning and not a wheelbarrow load of waste was encountered. Another carload will be shipped tomorrow.

Advertise in the Bonanza.

GEORGE WILSON'S "KO-KO"

It is difficult to mention Wilson's "Ko-Ko" without resorting to superlatives. From his first appearance to the final curtain he carried his audience with him in a whirlwind of laughter and applause.

When we take into consideration that last night's performance of "The Mikado" was the third rendered in Marshfield inside of a few days time, and that the audience was the largest of the three, we are forced to the conclusion that either the opera is an exceptionally good entertainment or else that it was rendered in professional style. The facts of the case are that the large crowd of last night was drawn purely on the merits of the show, as the novelty of seeing home folks in the performance of the show had all worn off with the two previous performances.—Coos Bay Times, Marshfield, Oregon.

Orchestra accompaniment of ten pieces for the entire opera.

POPULAR PRICES: Reserved Seats, $1.00 and 75c; General Admission, 50c; Children, 25c. Tickets on sale by High School students, exchangeable at box office for those of lower price. Buy your exchange tickets now. Seat Reservation at Miners Drug Store after 10 a. m. Friday.

AMUSEMENTS

BUTLER THEATER

A seven-reel program will be shown at the Butler tonight, made up of a five-reel Fox feature and a two-reel Fox comedy. The love, intrigue and hate of the old fairy story, Cinderella, have been woven into the pulsing life of today in "A Modern Cinderella," in which the winsome and dainty little screen favorite, June Caprice, stars. Carefully hidden under the thrills of a story for every family. Every younger sister whose hopes and longings are often crushed to give "big sister" a chance; every older sister whose eagerness for advancement often becomes gross selfishness, and every mother and father whose concern for their first-born often creates a heart-breaking neglect for their young children should see this great photoplay. It is not a sermon. It's a motion picture and contains all the love, intrigue and breath-taking action the phrase implies. C. M. Schwab's palatial residence on Riverside Drive, at Seventy-third street, broke into the films as the home of Joyce (June Caprice), in "A Modern Cinderella." A two-reel Fox comedy entitled "The Brainstorm," featuring Billie Ritchie, will also be shown, and these are some comedies.

Nat C. Goodwin in "A Wall Street Tragedy," in five reels. This is the first time that Nat Goodwin has appeared in Tonopah in a photoplay, and without a doubt the Liberty will be crowded tonight to see this world famous star in one of his strongest plays, "A Wall Street Tragedy." As the wealthy Westerner who invades the financial district of New York, as the cold-blooded stock manipulator, as the libertine, as the strong man made weak by the subtle maneuvers of a beautiful vampire, as the ruined man seeks solace in drink, as the hopeless tramp, and as the great man with a new-found strength chastened by experience and refined by the fires of adversity through which he has passed, Nat Goodwin gives a series of character drawings only possible to an actor of his unmistakable genius and establishes "A Wall Street Tragedy" as one of the truly great silent dramas of the year.

Helen Holmes in chapter 9 of "The Lass of the Lumberlands," entitled "The Double Fight," an interesting and exciting railroad story featuring the fearless film star at her best. Two big features for the same prices. Tomorrow: Frank Keenan and Enid Markey in "Jim Grimsby's Boy," a gripping story of the rough and rugged mountaineers, a picture bigger and stronger than ever. Chas. Murray in "The Judge" and a two-reel Keystone comedy, which is always good.

AT THE AIRDOME

So true to life is this awful scene of the broken hearted mother that in the Globe Theater in New York City on opening night of "Where are My Children?" four women fainted, yet not one single part of this picture is overdone. It is true to life. This is the daring subject handled with an extraordinary skill by that distinguished character actor, Tyrone Power, supported by a cast of brilliant Universal screen players, including Marie Walcamp and many others. This is the picture that drew the huge crowds at the Globe Theater in New York City, so huge as to block Broadway traffic, a feat never yet performed by ANY moving picture ever shown on Broadway. Story and scenario by that recognized genius of filmdom, Lois Weber, whose past successes immediately bring to mind that fascination and power of this greatest of all subjects of this character. All the New York newspapers and thousands of private citizens endorse this picture. This is the subject that deals plainly with the premeditated destruction of the unborn, a subject that every man and woman should see.
